September 9, 2019 - November 1, 2019

Columbus artist Jane Flewellen will present a collection of oil paintings titled Beauty and Light at The Ohio State University Faculty Club. The solo exhibition will be on display from September 9 through November 1, 2019. An opening reception in Ms. Flewellen's honor will be held on Friday, September 13, 2019 from 6:00 - 8:00 p.m. The opening reception is free and open to the public - all are welcome! Please call 614-292-2262 or email the club at facultyclubosu@yahoo.com if you would like more information.

The exhibition of Flewellen's work will include landscapes, still lifes and figures. Of her work, Jane says, "I paint because I love beauty and light. While we experience difficulties and pain in life, we can also have pleasure, respite, and joy in beauty. Inspiration comes when something remarkable catches my eye...I'll think, 'Wow, I want to paint THAT!' I'm often drawn to depicting light contrasting with darkness. I suppose this subconsciously symbolizes hope for me." When asked to describe Jane's work, Sharon Weiss, who owns Sharon Weiss Gallery in Columbus' Short North Arts District, says, "Jane's paintings are filled with amazing light and emotion. Her lovely landscapes take the observer to a mindful and spiritual place."

Jane Flewellen paints full-time. She studied Fine Arts at the University of Michigan and is a graduate of The Ohio State University. Her award-winning paintings have been juried into the Zanesville Museum of Art, the Ohio State Fair (Professional Division) and numerous other exhibits in Ohio, Indiana and Virginia. Her works have been in solo, two-person, and invitational exhibits and have been selected by the Ohio Percent for Art Program, which provides funds for the acquisition, commissioning and installation of works of art for new or renovated public buildings.

She is represented by the Sharon Weiss Gallery in Columbus' Short North Arts District.
